Claims 1-14 do not appear to involve an inventive step based on document 1. Document 1 describes, for detecting a break in wire of a coil of a stepping motor with high reliability even if cases of external noise and/or disturbance, a method in which an open condition detection circuit is provided, and a break in wire of a coil is detected, when an open condition is maintained over a predetermined period.

Further, providing a power transistor protecting circuit for halting a driving operation of a motor drive circuit, when a break in wire of a coil is detected and employing a counter and/or comparator for judging the predetermined period would be easy for a person skilled in the art.
